CAPITAL FIGHT IS SETTLED

HOUSE RECEDES FROM POSITION AND ACCEPTS SENATE BILL

Oklahoma City, Dec. 15.—The house of representatives, following democratic caucuses, yesterday by resolution took from the table the senate resolution, which accepted the northeast site for capitol purposes and passed it by a vote of 94 to 4 with ten members absent. The senate capital committee reported the amended Wright-Perry-Durant bill, which had been passed by the house and which accepted the Putnam site, and it was passed with little opposition. The bill then went to the house and that body concurred in the senate amendments.

Thus ended nearly two weeks of consideration on the capitol bill. Today on the final roll call both the resolution and the bill will be passed formally and made ready for the signature of Governor Haskell. The senate passed the amended house bill with applause and likewise the house passed the senate resolution. It had been a day of political and legislative whip-cracking and a recalcitrant house, by virtue of an occult influence that circulated solely in the executive council of the democratic members of that body, was magically swung into line with the exception of four members who took tangent as the cracker.

After the democratic caucus Representatives Logan, Crawford and Peters secured the adoption of a resolution calling from the table the much-abused senate resolution. The latter was adopted after which the benign house offered a resolution of thanks to the chamber of commerce of Shawnee for an invitation to be guests of that body at a banquet January 2.

The bill as adopted provides that Oklahoma City is made the permanent ment and immediate capital of the state, that a capital commission to consist of three members, appointed by the governor, whose term of office shall expire two years after January 1, 1911, whose salaries shall be $2,500 annually, and who shall be under bond of $10,000 each. The commission is authorized to employ the necessary clerical help and the final plans and specifications for the buildings shall be approved by the legislature.

The northeast site consists of 650 acres, fifteen acres of which is to be reserved for the capitol proper, together with half a block in the immediate vicinity on which the executive mansion is to be placed. Accompanying the resolution selecting the site is a bond for $100,000 executed by the donors, who are to have charge of the sale and platting of the land and the sale of the lots. They guarantee to turn into the state $1,000,000 for the erection of a capitol, the first payment of $25,000 to be made July 1, 1911, and the last July 1, 1914.

The legislature probably will adjourn today after formally passing the capitol bill and resolution on roll call. The emergency clause also will be attached to the bill on final roll call. It is expected that the governor will give the measures his approval by the end of the week, where upon all state officers and board will be moved immediately from Guthrie to Oklahoma City.

Rowell Allotment Cancelled.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The Senate today passed the Gore bill cancelling the allotment of a $75,000 quarter section of land at Lawton. Incidentally Senator Gore had a certified copy of the official stenographers' note inserted in the record to show that Senator Clapp and not Senator Gore offered the letter supporting the Rowell allotment. In a recent hearing before the special committee investigating the McMurray contracts Senator Gore testified that the entry in the Congressional Record to the effect that he had offered a letter in support of the amendment is wrong, and the insertion in the Record today of a certified copy of the original stenographic notes shows that the letter was introduced by Senator Clapp and not by Senator Gore. It is expected in the office of the official reporters of debates that the letter in question was handed in with the notes of the debate at the end of a heavy day's work reporting an amendment erroneously ascribed to Senator Gore. Senator Gore's testimony showed that he had always opposed the enrollment of Dr. Rowell as an Indian.

OKLAHOMA BANK

DEPOSITS $101,000,000

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 15.—A consolidation of the official reports of the state bank commissioner and controller of currency as to the condition of state and national banks respectively, the latter just reported, shows that on November 10 the total deposits in the 921 Oklahoma banks was $101,639,612.42.

This grand total includes $788,746 of United States deposits, which the National controller does not include in the total of individual deposits and $768,746 of cashiers and certified checks which the state banking department does not list as individual deposits.

This is the first time in the history of Oklahoma banking that the deposits have gone over a hundred million. The total deposits a year ago were approximately $89,000,000, the highest previous record, two years ago, $61,000,000.

The total of a hundred and one million deposits on November 10 was a gain of $16,498,616 over the grand total of $85,140,996 on September 1, 1910.

The state banks, 693 in number, have $55,683,981.89 in deposits, according to the November 10 report; the nationals, 288 in number, $45,956,530.53. The total resources November 10 were $158,211,018.34 against $133,463,159.54 on September 1, the former being divided as follows: State banks, $76,394,089; nationals, $81,816,928.

JACK JOHNSON SET FREE—COURT ADJOURNS

The last case taken up by the district court was one charging Jack Johnson with forging the name of Ross Galt to a check for $7.50. The prosecuting witness, Mr. Galt, being in Texas at this time, there was not sufficient evidence to warrant the prosecution of the case and it was dismissed.

The court then adjourned, it having completed the docket. The jail was relieved of several of its inmates, most of them being acquitted and one or two making bond.

It is understood that Judge Rainey will be here Monday to pass on motions and attend to other matters that may be presented by attorneys.

McGuire's Wife Weds Alderman.

Pawnee, Okla., Dec. 15.—Mrs. Bird S. McGuire, divorced wife of the Oklahoma congressman from the first district, Thursday was married here to George D. LeMott, a former star football player for the Haskell Indian school at Lawrence, Kan. LeMott now is an attache of the Osage Indian agency and is a member of the Pawnee city council. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. McGuire has been in the real estate and insurance business here since her divorce. She took a great interest in the recent campaign of McGuire and worked for his success here.

Negro Will Not Be Appointed.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Negro voters who cast their ballots with the republicans on Nov. 8 in the expectation that William H. Lewis of Boston would be appointed an Assistant Attorney General may be disappointed.

It was reported today President Taft practically had decided to abandon the suggestion that Lewis be appointed. Announcement that the president would appoint Lewis to a place in the department of justice came about ten days before the democrats elected a new house of representatives.

Because nobody tipped off Mr. Wickersham, the attorney general, things went wrong. When seen immediately after the announcement that Lewis would be appointed, Mr. Wickersham said there was no vacancy. Later there was talk of giving Lewis the place now held by John G. Thompson, who has been investigating Indian-depredation claims. This was met with the argument that Mr. Thompson was fast closing up this work and would complete it in a year. Speaker Cannon also objected to the removal of a Danville (Ill.) man to make room for a Boston lawyer.

So Mr. Wickersham is not likely to have a negro assistant, and is not going to feel badly if he does not, it is generally understood.

Dr. V. Lyle returned from St. Louis yesterday for the holidays.

Collision Near Sapulpa.

Sapulpa, Okla., Dec. 15.—Hurled through a cab window when two trains collided on the Red River division of the Frisco Thursday morning, Engineer Heffer was seriously injured. His right leg was crushed and he received internal injuries that may cause his death. The accident occurred at a curve and when members of the crew saw the trains plowing toward each other they jumped. Heffer stuck to his post. The collision was the result of a shifting of orders.

While being rushed to the Sapulpa hospital the ambulance in which Heffer was riding collided with a water plug in making a curve and was wrecked.

There are three things that go to make a good cigar; good tobaccos, perfectly blended, skilled labor and knowing how to combine the two. We don't buy cigars because we like the man who sells them. We know how they are made, what they are made of, which accounts for the popularity of the cigars we sell.

We especially recommend a new cigar we have just got in which is unquestionably the best value for 5 cents on the market today. The filler has a fine flavor and aroma and it burns evenly and is good down to the last puff. If you are a discriminating smoker don't fail to try one.

HIS PROUDEST DAY.

Minnesota is going to erect a monument to the late Governor John A.
Johnson. Suitable and characteristic inscriptions for the pedestal are being considered. There is a strong sentiment in favor of inscribing Johnson's "proudest day," says the Sioux City Tribune. After he had made his great impression at the meeting of the Gridiron club in Washington and his name became frequent in mention as the democratic candidate for the presidency, he was asked on his return if it was not his proudest day. "No, it was not," he replied. Pressed to tell what it was, after much evasion, he reluctantly said: "The proudest day of my life was the day when I went home Saturday night with my first week's wages and giving them to my mother, proudly said 'Mother, you need never take in washing again.' Certainly, put that inscription on his monument. Nothing better marks the character of the man."

It is rumored that the liquor forces are already planning to initiate another bill to repeal the prohibition law. This thing of keeping up a continual agitation is doing more to injure Oklahoma and discredit the initiative and referendum than anything else we know of. The News would like to see a period of quiet in which the business interests of Oklahoma would have an opportunity to expand and further develop the resources of the state.

DISTRIBUTORS

Office holding has a strong attraction for the average American.
Incidentally it has been the rock upon which many promising careers have been wrecked. It is all very well while a man is young but when one spends the greater part of his life in the employ of the government he naturally becomes unfitted for anything else. Then when he reaches an age that makes him incapable of properly attending to the duties of his position and some younger man takes his place his declining years are often the most distressful of his whole life. Men in office seldom save much. There are too many demands on them and as a consequence they face a dismal old age. It is far better for the young man to get into some business for himself than to depend on some one else for a job. If there is anything in a man the responsibility of a business of his own brings it out and develops all his latent powers.

A young business man once applied to a banker for a temporary loan. The banker began asking a number of questions concerning his financial standing. The young man cut him short by saying: "None of those are reasons why you are going to let me have the money." "What is, then," asked the other. "Because I need the money." And he got it.
After all is said there is but one reason why Ada must vote the Byrd's Mill bonds. We must have the water.

Cruce comes forward with the statement that he has promised no appointments and will not announce any until after he is inaugurated.
Furthermore, he says that in this case the early bird will not necessarily be the one that catches the worm, for he will look with more favor on the man who gives him a chance to catch his breath than the one who butts in and bothers him now.

Many mushroom republican papers were established all over the state at the opening of the campaign.
They thrived very well as long as the politicians coughed up, but since the frost of November they seem to have lost interest in the sheets and the obituaries of many of them have already been written. More to follow during the next few months.

A lady from Sulphur visiting here states that the lack of water at other places has been a big thing for Sulphur. People are coming in from everywhere and the town is about as full as it usually is during the summer season. If Ada had the same inducement to offer prospectors it might also be enjoying a period of very rapid growth.

About the time one boom ends and people begin to look for a collapse, Oklahoma City springs another. The packing houses did their work well, and now the state capital will serve to keep the pot boiling awhile longer. We shall now look forward with some curiosity to see what that enterprising city will spring next.

Miss Emma Lucile Wales has returned to Sulphur after having been here attending the lately deceased Pony Deaver.

THE CAPITAL QUESTION SETTLED, AT LAST.

For twenty years the fight over the permanent location of the state capital has gone on at intervals. Twice the territorial legislature voted to move it from Guthrie where it had been placed by the federal government, but each time it was vetoed by the governor, likewise appointed by the federal government. Finally congress passed an act forbidding the legislature to make any further move in the matter, and even in the enabling act placed a provision that it should not be moved until after 1913.
The last phases of the scrap are matters of recent history. At the election in June the people were given their first opportunity to pass on the matter and they spoke in no uncertain terms. About all the interest Guthrie ever took in the state government was to see how much profit it could make out of it, and very naturally people did not like that. When the fight reached the decisive point Guthrie still offered little inducement to secure the permanent location and now it loses what came to it as a free gift and which it seemed to think belonged to it by right of discovery. The writer has always favored Oklahoma City and cared little what site was selected for the buildings just so Oklahoma City would pay the bills. This is probably the only case on record where a state has secured its public buildings as a gift from a city.
The successful termination of the fight is another big victory for Gov.
Haskell. He has again demonstrated the fact that he is usually able to land anything he goes after.

Another thing that is cause for congratulation is the fact that the final settlement of this case permits Cruce to begin his administration without any embarrassments growing out of a wrangle over a matter like this one. Both he and Haskell are to be congratulated on the settlement of the issue.

will change the name of the paper to only recently came here from Ard-things about the paper situation at

Negro Store Dynamited.

Durant, Okla., Dec. 15.—George A.
Robinson, a Caddo negro, is here this week to tell the grand jury what he knows about the dynamiting and subsequent burning of his store at Caddo.

Robinson conducted a little store in a two-story frame building, 20x40 feet, which he had built near the Katy depot in Caddo. He also owns five small houses in the same vicinity, which he rented to negroes.

About six weeks ago the rear of the store building was wrecked by a charge dynamite placed under the building. The charge was set off directly under a window, near which Robinson's cot had been located a few nights previous. Fortunately for him, he had moved the cot, and thus escaped being killed.

Robinson was ill at the time, and the shock of the explosion confined him to his bed for some time.

The stock and building were damaged about $300 by the explosion.

Examples of Nerve.

We have seen many examples of nerve and really admire the ease with which some people get through the world with that as a substitute for brains. The two following cases are given by the Denison Gazetteer and evidently took place there. Evidently the editor had nerve too or he would not have dared to print the conversation. Says the Gazetteer:

"A number of women were talking recently of the nerve of some people.
A dressmaker in the group said that some time ago a woman came to her shop and asked how much goods it would take for a suit. The dressmaker told her. Then the woman asked the dressmaker to go with her to choose the goods. She left her work and went with her. The woman then asked her to look over the fashion magazines to pick out a way to make it. The dressmaker did. 'Thank you so much for your time. I have so much confidence in your taste, that I wanted your judgment before going to Kansas City to buy my suit.' Another woman in the group said:
'I know of a woman with just as much nerve. She lives near my brother's suburban grocery store, and went in there one evening lately to borrow some matches. She said she had forgotten to order some when she was downtown.'"

Presbytery Rejects Immersional Baptism.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 15.—A movement to substitute immersional baptism for the sprinkling method in Presbyterian churches was approved by a committee of the Pittsburg Presbytery today, but after a heated discussion was rejected.

The Rev. Dr. D. S. Schaff of the Western Theological seminary reported the recommendation that the words "sprinkling and pouring" be stricken from the book of discipline and the word "Baptize" substituted.
The Rev. W. L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, cautioned against hurried action. The Rev. John Royal Harris of the Shady Avenue church said: "I would not immerse in the name of the Trinity, and I would leave the church first."

The Rev. C. S. George suggested that those who desired the radical change should be sent over to the Baptist church. Others pointed out the expense of installing baptismal pools in the churches. The change finally was defeated by a large majority.

To Complete Appraisements.

Washington, Dec. 15.—An estimator for a deficiency appropriation of $30-000 for the Five Civilized Indian Tribes Commission to complete the work of appraising and selling the surplus unallotted lands of the tribes in Oklahoma was submitted to the house today by Secretary Ballinger. This would make a total appropriation of $230,000 for the commission's administration of affairs for the current fiscal year.

MAN NEED NOT SCOFF.

Not So Many Years Ago He Was Crazy Over Dress Himself.

No, brother, men have not been always so indifferent to dress as they are today. Their raiment, as compared with the dandyism of woman hasn't always been above reproach.

Consider, if you will, the days when our respected forefathers would draw on their lavender colored pants with a shoe horn, using a little slippery powder, maybe, to help things along, until people looked at their feet and wondered if the pants hadn't been sewed up after the feet got through.

Consider their tight boots—made so tight that they caused the most excruciating agony. And remember that the dandies of that day would carefully polish those burning, blazing, pinching, agonizing boots and then step carefully with the toes in a mud puddle so that the mud drying on the lower part would make the feet seem small. O, yes, they did it.
And of course you know that a bootjack wasn't used merely because the boots might soil the hands, but because nobody had invented a stump puller in those days and applied it to the removal of tight boots.

And remember the bell-crowned hats, and the dingbats and jimeracks they hung on their watchfobs. And the fancy waistcoats and the frilled shirts.

And going even further back, consider what historical drawings give us of information as to ancient dress —the knee breeches with gorgeous rosettes—the brilliant buckles on the shoes—the cream-colored cloaks with mauve satin linings. And the white silk stockings that the excelsior would show through. Think of the be powdered and becurled wigs when you rave at rats on women's heads and repent of your scoffing words.

Face powder? Perfumes and scents? Sure they had 'em. Patches on their complexion—yes, and rouge.
They sure were pretty men those days.

And going back to the Indian—think of his war paint, of his gaudy blanket, his stained arrows, his painted pony, his bear-oiled hair and his colored feathers.

But what's the use? He's not so pretty now. Only he really hadn't oughter scoff so much at hobbie skirts and peach-basket hats and Chinese hair switches and things. He really hadn't oughter.—Galveston

Hopkins Says He Is Ready to Die.

Lawton, Okla., Dec. 15.—The rope which will be used in the execution of John Hopkins, convicted wife-slayer, on December 30, will be the same which has been employed in the execution of every man legally hung since statehood, with the single exception of another John Hopkins, who was executed at Miami two years ago for the murder of his sweetheart, Lena Craig.

It was first secured by Sheriff Frank C. Carter of Tillman county for the execution of Frank Ford, a negro, convicted of wife murder, and later was used in the execution of Will Johnson, another negro, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Mary Cappy, an aged white woman, at Shawnee; A. F. Armstrong, slayer of Isaac T. Fell at Perry, and Alf Hunter, alias Jim Kingsbury, murderer of Sheriff George W. Garrison of Oklahoma county.

binding straps and noose up from binding straps and noose up from Frederick Thursday. "It will get one John Hopkins, however," said Carter, "and this co-incidence will fix up the failure to hang all of them."

Sheriff LeFors is preparing to erect a gallows in a recess in the wall of the court house. The death watch will be placed on Hopkins with in the next few days.

"I'm ready," declared Hopkins Thursday, when visited by the sheriff. "Go ahead and carry out the mandate of the court and don't worry about me. I am no good to myself my children or any body else. My children all have good homes now. That is all I care about. I am willing to die, and look forward with pleasure to the day of my execution."

He seemed in good spirits when told of the court mandate ordering his death, and laughed heartily when John Gonzales, recently sentenced to life imprisonment for murder, called the county attorney to one side, after the manner of bootleggers, and asked to be "given credit" for the time served by him before trial.

TOLD OF GALLIFFET

ANECDOTES OF "ENFANT TERRIBLE" OF FRENCH ARMY.

Once Ate a Wineglass on a Wager—How He Attempted to Lead a Cavalry Charge Down a Steep Embankment.

There is hardly a Paris paper which does not every few days print a story about the late Marquis General de Galliffet, who crowned an adventurous career by accepting the portfolio of war in the "Cabinet of Republican Defense" only to find himself face to face with M. Millerand, the socialist minister of commerce, whose father Galliffet had once ordered to be shot. That was during the Commune.

"I forgive you," said the son cordially.

"I had no idea he was such a bad father," remarked the Marquis dryly, refusing to take the proffered hand. A volume of Galliffetiana has been compiled by M. Louis Thomas. Some of the stories told of and by the cavalry officer, who was an "enfant terrible" all his long life, are new. Here is a bit of Galliffet's:

"One evening, when I was quite a young officer, I bet that I would eat a wineglass, stem and all, and I did. I took some time about it, but I ate it. My mouth was bleeding when I had done, but I went to bed all right. At 3 in the morning I woke up in fearful pain. I tried to think what I had eaten, and then I remembered. It was the wineglass, of course. I proceeded to kick myself. 'Galliffet,' I said, 'you're an ass. You were going to die for your country, and now you are going to die in your bed, because of a drizzling and disgusting bet.' While I cursed myself the pain stopped. I turned around, went to sleep and woke up fresh and fit in the morning, and thought no more about the wineglass."

Some say that the pluck which Galliffet certainly had came from a good digestion, which he certainly seems to have had also. Here is a military anecdote of him:

"During some maneuvers he was watching a charge of cavalry under his orders. Suddenly the leading squadron stopped dead. Galliffet roared, 'Send me the colonel!' and he galloped up.

"Now, colonel, what's wrong?"

"We came upon a road at the bottom of an embankment too steep to ride down, sir."

"Nonsense, sir! You are not fit for your job. I will lead the charge. You go to the tail of the squadron."

"Galliffet took the command, galloped to the road and rolled down the embankment with his horse. Lying on his back with a sprained muscle in his leg he shouted to his men to stop, adding, 'Send me the colonel.' The colonel came up from the tail of the squadron. 'Colonel, you were right; I am a blank fool. You may take the command of your regiment again.'"

Toward the end of his life, when in a bad temper, Galliffet insisted on calling himself a played-out old idiot. Journalists would try to interview him, and he generally showed them the door with a voluble speech.

"No, sir, every one knows I am an old fool. If I were to talk to you everybody would say, 'What does that blank blank dotard Galliffet want to be talking for? Who wants to know what the decrepit old sinner thinks?' And you, my dear sir, what would people say about you? That you were the blankest ass in the press to ask the opinion of a senile idiot like Galliffet about anything. Now, I don't want people to call you an ass. That is why I won't tell you anything. Good day!"
